

Daniel

Daniel, age 15 is a thoughtful teen who very much wants a family of his own. He likes reading all types of books. Right now he is into "Anime books." He would like to someday play on a real basketball team for his school. He says he is very good at basketball. He also enjoys football and his favorite team is the Eagles; thus a family that liked football would be a plus. Daniel says the best thing about him is his personality. He also enjoys Christian Rock music. Daniel is requesting a two parent home with children that go to church but not everyday. He also wants a family that does not cuss.
